LETTER OF RECOMMENDATION

I take great pleasure to pen down a recommendation for Ganga Singh as I had the chance to closely interact with him during his graduation degree. I found him particularly noticeable as he is a student with faith in his work and hard work in his hands.

I can recall that he has always shown great enthusiasm to learn more, and been very proactive especially when it came to practical work. He is a student with a good knowledge of fundamental subjects including Analysis and Synthesis of Network, Electromagnetic Field and Theory, VLSI Technology and Design. I won't be wrong if I say that he has got an eagle's eye as he understands the intricate details of the problem, and optimizes the solution with ease.

I have also observed that he has a unique sense to take informed decisions and has always been deeply invested in his work. Talking about other soft skills, he has been affirmatively at the forefront when given any assignment and seminars, in addition being efficient in getting his work done irrespective of the tight deadlines. His leadership skills are phenomenal which led him to become the Class Representative.

We had engaged in many discourses and his mental attitude and perspective towards his skill development seems incomparable. From basic projects like Home Automation and Automatic Railway Barrier System he has stepped his way up to some exemplary projects.

Ganga Singh has curiosity to be acquainted with ongoing trends of technology. Being result oriented and responsive makes him quite resourceful. Hence in my opinion, he is a well deserving candidate for your post-graduate program at your esteemed institute, so I recommend his candidature for your prestigious institute of learning.

Letter of Recommendation

I am happy to write this letter of recommendation for Mr. Ganga Singh, who was my student during his Bachelor of Electronics & Communication Engineering course from July 2014 to June 2018 at GNDU, Regional Campus, Gurdaspur (India). In this letter, I would like to express my admiration and gratitude for this applicant to pursue further study at your University.

With my personnel experience, I would like to add Mr. Ganga Singh's attributes are his determination and diligence with work. He grasps new concepts quickly and learned every subject concept very accurately. His extraordinary ability to analyze problems and outline necessary courses was invaluable.

With my best knowledge, He is a very intelligent, sincere and diligent person. He displayed a profound understanding of different subjects of Engineering & Technology like Data Communication, Programming Languages and Software Engineering. He has a brilliant, inquisitive mind and shows remarkable grasping power. He had shown inherent creativity and zeal in pursuing his goals.

I believe in Mr. Ganga Singh's outstanding abilities and strongly recommend him for further education at your university, where he can develop and apply his bright talents in the field of Information Technology.

I will be pleased to answer any additional questions you may have.

Sincerely,

Dr. Satbir Singh, 14/07/2023
